

Murphy & King's David Evans Named to American Arbitration Association Board of Directors

Boston (May 15, 2013) – Murphy & King, Professional Corporation announced today that Shareholder, David L. Evans, has been elected to the American Arbitration Association (AAA) Board of Directors.

The not-for-profit American Arbitration Association has administered 3.9 million alternative dispute resolution (ADR) cases since its founding 87 years ago, and is the leading provider of ADR services in the world. Prior to being elected to the Board of Directors, Evans was a member of the AAA's Large, Complex Case Panel, the International Centre for Dispute Resolution Neutral's Roster, the AAA's Panel of Mediators, and numerous other ADR Panels in the U.S. and internationally. He also chaired an AAA committee to collect information from arbitrators regarding issues related to speed and economy in arbitration.

"Murphy & King is very proud of David Evans for being elected to the AAA Board of Directors," said Murphy & King Founder James Coyne King. "David maintains an active practice as a certified neutral arbitrator and mediator and serves as a true leader in our litigation and ADR practice."

Evans is co-chair of Murphy & King's Litigation Department. He represents large public corporations, closely held companies and individuals in the resolution of complex business and intellectual property disputes.
